LIBERTY BOND MEETING

Mass Meeting at Opera House To-night to be Addressed by Hon. Carl Vrooman of Washington.

In conformity with the program to be followed in towns and cities throughout the country to push the sale of the Liberty Bonds, it was decided this morning to have the bells on all the churches in Alexandria rung tonight at nine o'clock. After further consideration on the matter by the city authorities, however, it was thought best to postpone the ringing of the bells until tomorrow night, in order not to cause undue alarm, and to give the people longer notice. Accordingly the bells will not be rung tonight, but will be tomorrow night at nine o'clock.

Mass Meeting Tonight.

The mass meeting will be held this evening at the Opera House as announced on Saturday, and will be addressed by Carl Vrooman, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, at eight o'clock. It is possible that Representative Heflin, of Alabama, will also be present and speak. Commonwealth's Attorney Samuel G. Brent will preside as the representative of the Virginia Council of Defense.

The following appeal has been made by the Liberty Loan Committee, of this city:

An Appeal To The Citizens of Alexandria

No call was ever more insistent than the call to subscribe for the Liberty bonds. The investment feature of these bonds in itself, aside from patriotic motives should lead to large and immediate subscriptions. The bonds are convertible into bonds bearing a higher rate of interest, if such bonds should be issued. The history of our Government bonds has been that after troublous periods they have sold at a premium, and those who subscribed largely were abundantly rewarded.

We appeal to every organization—churches, clubs, patriotic bodies, business men's associations, professional organizations, women's associations—to exert themselves to the utmost. We further request that every organization with surplus funds in its treasury invest all of such funds that can be spared in the Liberty Loan.

A number of fire and life insurance agents and traveling salesmen of the wholesale houses and jobbers of Alexandria are cooperating with the committee at much personal sacrifice. These men have enlisted in this campaign in the same spirit as they would serve their country with muskets.

The subscriptions given them are turned in to the banks of Alexandria or to any particular bank that may be indicated by you.

We plead earnestly that all our citizens be in a receptive spirit and make their subscriptions at once.

Do not wait for a salesman to call on you. Go TODAY to your bank or to any bank in the city, or to your employer or to any merchant in Alexandria. They will give you all the information and all the help needed to buy your bond.

YOUR COUNTRY CALLS!

We know you will answer "HERE."

FOR THE SOLDIERS

More Reading and Rest Rooms Planned for Their Use in Alexandria for the Summer.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Boy Scout rooms on South Washington street were turned over for the use of the soldiers as reading and rest rooms, several days ago and that similar rooms were opened today in the Young People's building, also for the same purpose, it is said that arrangements are under way for opening still other rooms for their use, as the following article, received by the Gazette this morning will explain:

"Plans are under way for the establishment in this city of rest and recreation rooms for the soldiers of the various camps which will be stationed around Alexandria for the summer months. Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett, who has recently been appointed Chairman of the committee by the National Mothers' Congress, which will have charge of the welfare and recreation work for soldiers in mobilization and concentration camps, met with the Board of Governors of the Westminister Building of the Second Presbyterian Church proposed to them a plan for the use of the basement of this building, which is splendidly equipped for the purpose in view.

"The plan which is being favorably considered at the present time, contemplates the appointment of a committee of ladies and gentlemen from this city to have charge of the work, under the Board of Governors, and will also embrace a series of entertainments to be given for soldiers in the regular army, marine corps, national guard and training camp at such private houses in this city as will be offered for the work.

The Mothers Congress of this country is taking active steps for the establishment of similar places of rest and recreation for the soldiers in camps throughout the country. Mrs. Barrett has just returned from Philadelphia where she spoke at a meeting held at the home of Mr. Edward Stoutsbury. Mr. Stoutsbury has made a contribution of $50,000 for the erection of a club building in Philadelphia for the same purpose. June 5th a meeting of the entire quota represented in the Mothers Congress of Philadelphia was held, at the Y. M. C. A. Building in Philadelphia, at which time the Philemuseum Club contributed $550 towards a tent at League Island. It is expected that similar contributions will follow when the people throughout the country have become fully cognizant of the work planned by the Mothers Congress.

It is ardently hoped that this work will be inaugurated with success in this city as this is one of the cities which is a direct center of a large circle of various camps. Those in charge of the work will be particularly fortunate in securing the Westminster Building which combines the best gymnasium facilities with excellent baths, pool tables, and bowling alleys and will be an ideal place for soldiers taking time off from their duties for a few hours every now and then during the summer months."

"Poppy" Tonight

Another in the series of constantly successful Selznick-Pictures will be the attraction at the Richmond Theatre tonight. This is "Poppy," with the chic and vivacious Norma Talmadge in the stellar role.

Miss Talmadge is one of the stars who are not afraid to sacrifice their appearance to the demands of the story, and in "Poppy" she begins by impersonating a hopeless little waif of fourteen, bullied and neglected in turn until life is unbearable, and she runs away. From this point she progresses through a variety of experiences and adventures, until she reaches the culmination of her life as a successful author, courted by two men for her beauty and charm.

SPANISH CRISIS GRAVE,

Even Intimated That it May Lead to Change in Policy of Country.

Madrid, June 11.—The present political crisis in Spain was characterized as the gravest which has arisen in the last forty years in a statement by Senor Groizard, president of the Senate. He expressed this opinion after having a conference with King Alfonso. The King also received Senor Villaneuva, president of the chamber.

It is thought probable that the formation of a government to succeed the ministry of Marquis Prieto, who resigned yesterday, will be intrusted to the Conservatives, with Edurado Dato, former Premier, again in power.

When Marquis Prieto was asked after presenting the resignation of his Cabinet, if the crisis would lead to a change in the policy of Spain, he replied that was a question the King would have to answer.

Paris, June 11.—A Havas dispatch from Madrid says it thought in some quarters there that Marquis Prieto may form another Liberal Cabinet.

Evidence was lacking and the negro was dismissed.

Bells in the towers of the Richmond churches and those of the fire engine houses throughout the city pealed simultaneously last night at the close of worship, as a reminder to those who have not subscribed to the liberty loan to do so at once for the sake of humanity and for freedom from the yoke of Prussian autocracy. The bells rang promptly at 9:35 o'clock—a time when churchgoers were on the way from the services.

SAINT JOHN'S CHURCH

Semi-Centennial of Foundation at McLean, Fairfax County, Was Observed Yesterday.

The semi-centennial of the foundation of St. John's Church, McLean, Va., was held yesterday with appropriate and interesting services attended by large congregations. There was a celebration of the Holy Communion at half-past seven o'clock in the morning by the Rev. G. C. Shears, rector of the church. Then the regular eleven o'clock service at which the sermon was preached by the Rev. James H. Griffith, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Kinston, N. C., who held services there as a student when St. John's Church was one of the Seminary missions. This was followed by the administration of the Holy Communion by the rector assisted by Mr. Griffith.

At night there was another service at which addresses were made by the Rev. Dr. S. A. Wallis, of the Theological Seminary, near this city, who was in charge of the St. John's Chapel, then at Langley, for a short time as a Seminary mission before it had a regular rector settled over it; the Hon. R. Walton Moore and the Rev. Sewall S .Hepburn of the diocese of Maryland, who as a student at the Seminary held the first service at Langley exactly fifty years ago . After St. John's Church had a minister it was removed from Langley to its present site at McLean. It has a beautiful rectory on the same lot, and is situated in a beautiful farming country with a large and prosperous community around it. The services were enjoyed by all present and marked an important milestone in the years of its history. The rector, the Rev. Charles G. Shears and his wife have a delightful and attached congregation who hope that their work will continue for many years among them.

A reception was held by the Rev. George C. Shears, Mrs. Shears and the congregation of St. John's on Saturday night but the heavy storm prevented many from attending.

TRUE BILLS RETURNED.

Seven Persons Will Be Arraigned to Answer Charges of Violating Prohibition Law.

The grand jury of the Corporation Court this morning returned true bills in the following cases, the parties being charged with violating the prohibition law:

The Corporation Court disposed of some minor matters which were upon the docket.

RIFLES FOR HOME GUARDS.

Expected the War Department Will be Given Power to Furnish Them to Companies in a Few Days.

It is expected that President Wilson will sign the bill passed by the Senate and House last week empowering the War Department to furnish rifles to the home guard companies in the various cities and towns where they have been organized.

As soon as the bill becomes a law the distribution of guns will be made promptly, according to Washington advices, so that the Alexandria companies ought to be supplied within a short time.

VIOLATORS WARNED

Prison Term or Bonds of $500 Will be Penalty for Breaking Prohibition Liquor Law.

Beginning today State Prohibition Commissioner Sidney J. Peters announces that the provisions of the liquor will be more rigidly enforced than ever. Violators of the law will be compelled to furnish a bond of from $500 to $5.000 guaranteeing not to violate any of the law's provisions for the term of one year. If unable to give the necessary bond they will have to serve six months in jail in addition to the prescribed month's sentence. Orders have been sent to the commonwealth's attorneys throughout the state to that effect.

AFTER DELINQUENTS

Provost Marshal-General Telegraphs Governor—Wants Efforts Made to Detect Those Not Registered.

Wholesale arrests for failure to register will be made here within the next few days, or as soon as the several means for checking up slackers have been investigated. Already a list of men personally known to the registrars has been made up, and will be turned over to the Federal authorities for action.

Governor Henry C. Stuart last night received a telegram from Provost-Marshal-General Crowder requesting that every effort be made to detect and arrest all persons subject to registration who had not complied with the law. The law requires that all police officers of any grade or class, whether township, county, city, State or Federal, must report those who have not registered. They are empowered to require any person subject to registration to produce the registration certificate.

It is the interest of the States to see that all slackers are brought to justice, as the quotas of the States will depend upon the estimated population, and not on the total enrollment. Governor Stuart, by, insisting that the estimate for Virginia be corrected, cut down the estimate 22,500, thereby greatly reducing the quota of drafted men from this State. If there are any slackers, the burden will fall on the shoulders of the registrants.

The time for leniency has passed. Beginning today a vigorous campaign will be inaugurated throughout the country to round-up those who have not complied with the law. They will be immediately registered, as the fact that they are liable to a heavy jail sentence will not keep them from being enrolled for military service.

MOB SEIZES SUSPECTS

Takes Men Accused of Kidnapping Baby Keets From Sheriff.

Springfield, Mo., June 11.—Certainty of death from a mob bent on lynching him for suspected complicity in the abduction and murder of 4-months-old Lloyd Keet did not frighten C. J. Piersol into confessing a part in the crime.

He and his five fellow-prisoners were taken from the custody of Sheriff Will Webb at Stockton, 45 miles northwest of here yesterday by a mob of 45 outraged Springfield citizens in automobiles, who for more than 20 hours had raced in automobiles to overtake the Sheriff, who was hastening his prisoners to safety in the state prison at Jefferson City. When the mob reached Stockton the Sheriff made a stern plea with the mob that justice be allowed to take its course, but the leaders insisted upon possessing Piersol, from whom they believed they might extort a confesion.

With a rope around his neck, according to reports reaching the sheriff's's office here, Piersol was led to a tree and given an opportunity to confess. Stoutly denying his guilt the prisoner was swung up from the ground and hanged until he was black in the face. Then his captors lowered him and offered him one more chance for life. Piersol insisted not only upon his innocence, but that of the four men and one woman who also were prisoners. The mob pulled the rope again, declaring that he would die anyhow and Piersol remained silent.

Sheriff Webb again pleaded with the mob, and the swinging man was released, the mob leaders declaring they did not intend to hang an innocent man, but that they did not intend to let Piersol go until they were satisfied of a reasonable doubt of his guilt.

Piersol was given back to the Sheriff's custody and the mob dispersed.

Sheriff Webb was thought tonight to have four of his prisoners, including Mrs. Taylor Adams, the woman member of the alleged band, in jail at Stockton. The two other prisoners, Piersol and Taylor Adams, the woman's husband, were believed to be on the road northward under guard of the Sheriff toward a railroad line that would provide transportation to Jefferson City.

AMERICA'S PEACE TERMS.

President Wilson's message to the Russian Government comes just in the nick of time to clear up an artfully clouded situation and to facilitate the work which Mr. Root's mission has been sent to perform. It is in essential sympathy with the purposes and spirit of the new democracy that has recently been set up in the house of the Czars, and should serve as a platform on which the most extreme Russian radicals can unite with the United States in the prosecution of the war. It is an intelligent and just interpretation and application of the recent peace cry of "no indemnities and no annexations," to which every true Russian democrat can cordially subscribe.

Most of the newspapers of the United States show that two things are made plain in this formal communication. The first is that the United States "seeks no material profit or aggrandizement of any kind." We disavow once more any claim for material reward or gain. As to that we are at one with the Russian pacifists. But while we do not want "material profit or aggrandizement," we will insist that "no readjustments of power must be made except such as will tend to secure the future peace of the world and the future welfare and happiness of its people." And this object the President firmly declares is absolutely incompatible with the restoration of the status quo ante bellum. "It was the status quo ante out of which this iniquitous war issued forth," and "that status must be altered in such fashion as to prevent any such hideous thing from ever happening again." Indemnities and territorial changes may be necessary; but the former should embarce only those which "constitute payment for manifest wrong done," and territory should change hands only "for the purpose of securing those who inhabit it a fair chance for life and liberty."

Russia knows now what our peace conditions are and, more important still, Germany knows what they are. If the latter wants to talk peace, she knows the general terms and principles to which she must subscribe. Our new declaration of independence is a declaration of independence for the world from German domination and control.

As the Washington Post of today says, slowly but surely the doom of Germany draws near. There is no escape. The neutrals who were forced to furnish supplies can furnish them no longer. The enemies who were unprepared are now stronger than Germany. The Western world is becoming one in its determination that self-government shall be planted beyond the power of absolutism to disturb it. Civilization is united against the enemy that would destroy it. With fire and sword Germany sought to rule the world. With fire and sword Germany is receiving the punishment of those who would defy the world to arms.

MUST BEAR THE "VON."

A dispatch from Mexico City says only 50 German refugees from the United States are registered in the German consulate general there, and virtually all of them complain that the local representatives of the Kaiser's Government are indifferent to their needs. No German without a "von" before his name can expect to receive consideration or assistance from either the German legation or the consular authorities, the refugees say.

Nisi Dominus Frustra is the motto of the city of Edinburgh, and these words are to be found upon the gate of the city. They imply unless the Lord be with us all our efforts are in vain.

Many years ago an impecunious youth was sent to an Edinburgh college. He was not long in realizing that it was no place for a poor youth, his fellow-students being sons of lords, etc. Upon one occasion the youngster was requested by his Latin teacher to give the translation of Nisi Dominus Frustra. The boy replied promptly, "You can do nothing here unless you are a lord." The fling had its effect, and there was less arrogance upon the part of the sons of English noblemen afterwards.

From the dispatch quoted above it seems the prefix von is essential in Germany for any favor which may be asked of officials.

INSIST ON HEAVIER PENALTIES

As will be seen elsewhere in the Gazette Guy T. Horner and Thomas Whitehead, special attorneys under Prohibition Commissioner J. Sidney Peters, employed to aid in the prosecution of violations of the prohibition law, the former in the eastern and the latter in the western district, have addressed a circular letter to the Commonwealth's attorney's and others concerned throughout the State calling attention to the fact that persons convicted of violations of the Virginia State-wide prohibition law from now on will be required to give bond of $500 to $5,000, the court having discretion to fix the amount between those figures, and failure to furnish the bond, which shall be a guarantee that the accused will not violate the law again within a year, will mean an addition of six months in jail to the sentence prescribed by the court.

Since the prohibition law went into effect presons brought before the Corporation Court in Alexandria charged with its violation, when the cases were proven, received the minimum sentence—fifty dollars fine and thirty days in jail. In future, however, violators of the law will be made to pay heavier penalties.

Many cases of drunkenness are brought before the Police Court every month. The delinquents invariably aver they obtain their liquor in Washington, This assertion, however, is not generally believed, as it is evident liquor is being procured somewhere in Alexandria.

ROOSEVELT AROUSES AUDIENCE.

Before an audience that packed the Metropolitan Opera House in Philadelphia yesterday afternoon, former President Roosevelt voiced his criticism of present-day conditions in unmistakable terms and aroused more than 4500 men and women to a high pitch of enthusiasm when he denounced Prussianism and demanded that the new national army be based on the French and democratic model. Conscientious objectors, among other things he said, would be summarily disfranchised and placed on minesweepers and other equally hazardous tasks; American citizens of German blood not in full and earnest sympathy with the United States should be ejected from the country, and men who refused to enlist because of their enmity for England should be sent to Turkey to fight.

While some of the former President's utterances may be considered harsh, most people will agree with him when he says a man who evades his country's call at the present crisis should be disfranchised throughout his life.

PEOPLE OF THE PASSION PLAY.

Oberammergau is a small village in the mountain valley of the Ammer, in Upper Bavaria. It contains about 1,400 inhabitants, who are mainly engaged in making toys and in carving crucifixes, images of saints and rosaries. Many of the houses are adorned with quaint frescoes of Biblical subjects. The interest of Oberammergau to the outer world is derived from the Passion Play which is performed at intervals of ten years.

Thousands of Americans as well as natives of other countries in times past attended these representations of the Saviour's tabernacling with men, among whom Alexandrians at times mingled. This quiet and spiritually-minded village is now feeling the heavy weight of a war with which they had nothing to do.

Madeline Z. Doty contributes an article to the Atlantic Monthly which describes present conditions in Oberammergau. The picture of pallid, voiceless misery which she draws is one of the most heartrending that the war has brought forth. Here we have no victims of hellish aggression, nor indeed martyrs to their own evil impulses, but the subjects, as one might say, of a malevolent destiny, without and apart, grinding them to dust in wanton cruelty.

In the stricken, half-starved, hopeless townsfolk of Anton Lang we get a glimpse of the real German people. But lately happy, prosperous, contented, spiritual in outlook, genial in their regard for all the rest of the world, they are today heartbroken, penniless, desperate, stupefied in mind, and broken in spirit. What do they care, what did they ever care for the pan-Germanic dream? What does the window on the Atlantic via downtrodden Belgium mean to them? Did they ever even hear of the Kaiser's ambition for a Mohammedan overlordship and an outlet on the Persian Gulf? What has militarism ever meant to them but a wearisome drain on their lives? What was Junkerism to them but an irksome yoke?

But, today, they are paying the awful price of all these crimes. They are bled white in the present, and their future is a dreary sacrifice of all the traditions and acquisitions that had made theirs a name of honor in the world for a generation. No matter how the war may go, there is no compensation in it for the people of the Passion Play.

About twenty years ago the Passion Play was exhibited by pictures in Alexandria. They had been taken of every scene, all of which, as in the days of ancient Greece, had been enacted in the open. The panorama was exhibited at the Opera House and subsequently in the Young Men's Sodality Lyceum. After studying the pictures some Alexandrians determined to make the trip to Oberammergau and see the Passion Play. One of our most popular citzens who had been booked as one of the "pilgrims" died suddenly a day or two before the party was to sail.

The Passion Play is an echo which has come down the centuries. In the early days of Christianity, when the Bible existed in a fragmentary state, when but few churches had the entire canon and when but few could read, scenes in the Saviour's life upon earth were represented by plays in which the priests of that day and others were the actors. After the various books had been collected and copies of the scriptures multiplied, especially after the invention of printing, these plays became less frequent, and eventually Oberammergau was the only place where the Passion Play was produced, and only once in a decade.

The aftermath of the present war will be felt by Germany for many years to come, and Oberammergau may never again witness the assembling of people of other countries to see the reproduction of the Passion Play.

Announcement is made that the First National Bank and the National Bank of Danville, have been consolidated and that next Wednesday morning the merger would become effective. This new bank will have capital, surplus and undivided profits exceeding $4,750,000 and total resources of over $500,000, making it the strongest national bank in the tobacco territory of Virginia and North Carolina, shareholders were notified by letter last night. To say nothing of the business of the large cotton mills at Danville, there are several tobacco firms whose purchases of raw leaf have more than taxed the loaning privilege of any one of the banks. Similarity in the names also has caused confusion of mails and the general expenses of both institutions have been high. These are the given causes for the consolidation.

WILSON WINS PRAISE

Exposes German Lies, Says Editorial In Russian Newspaper.

Perograd, June 11.—President Wilson's note to Russia dealing with the aims of the United States in the war yesterday is published by all the morning newspapers. The Novoe Vremya, however, is the only journal which comments editorially on it.

"Its aim," says the Novoe Vremya, "is to meet the artfulness with which Germany has sought to ensnare Russian public opinion. The American President realizes the sources of the desperate agitation which has been made in Russia and other countries under the banner of social democracy and false pacifism. A copy (of the note) must be given to every soldier, workman and peasant.

"It must open the eyes of every one whose brain is not warped by the stupid and criminal stories that the war started by capitalists for their own benefit. The Russian democracy will be able to see the difference between the straightforward words of the American democracy and the crude lies by which the servants of the German emperor are trying to deceive the world."

PLEDGED TO PEACE

Emperor Charles Promises Hungarians to End War as Soon as Possible.

Amsterdam, June 11.—A Budapest dispatch says Emperor Charles has taken occasion again to assure the Hungarian people he is in favor of an early peace, as well as wide reform of the suffrage.

On Friday an enormous crowd, estimated at 100,000 persons, marched to the burgomaster's office at Budapest where Deputy Vasonyi gave the burgomaster an address to be delivered to Premier Esterhazy, urging the adoption of the secret vote and an enlarged franchise.

The burgomaster presented the address Saturday. The emperor replied that true to his promise he would see that the suffrage reform was carried out and would utilize the first occasion to conclude an honorable peace.

BRITISH HURL BOILING OIL.

Bombs of Inflammable Fluid Used in Battle of Messines.

London, June 11.—New weapons of formidable character were brought into use by the British army in the attack on Messines Ridge. The correspondent of the Daily News at headquarters tells of them.

"We didn't use gas in the attack," he says, "but every other known form of offensive weapon, I think, we did apply, including a new horror known in the army as 'oil cans' or 'boiling oil.' It is not permissible to give a description beyond saying that the weapon throws to a considerable distance projectiles, which are in fact, containers of highly inflammable stuff.

"These on concussion burst and scatter conflagration over a wide area. We know from prisoners taken that they caused terror and did an immense amount of harm both in actual casualties and by starting innumerable minor fires."

HOME GARDEN PRODUCTS.

Hoover and Pack Confer on Campaign to Stop all Waste Possible.

Washington, June 11.—Problems connected with the marketing of vegetables raised in war gardens throughout the United States were discussed today in a conference between Herbert C. Hoover, head of the Government Food Administration, and Charles Lathrop Pack, of Lakewood, New Jersey, president of the National Emergency Food Garden Commission.

It is recognized that the planting of upwards of two million home gardens on hitherto unused backyards and vacant lots all over the United States makes the market handling of this year's vegetable crop one that must be given careful attention. From detailed information Mr. Pack was able to report that the product of new food gardens located in villages, towns and cities, and not including farms, would add $250,000,000 or more of vegetables to the normal supply. This makes it important that steps be taken to prevent the glutting of markets and to prevent wasteful competition between the output of the home gardens and the produce raised by commercial truck gardeners.

Mr. Pack also reported comprehensive plans of his commission for a nation wide campaign to stimulate the canning and drying of vegetables and fruits for winter use, as a means of preventing waste of the summer supply.

ONE DIES AS AUTO DIVES.

Through Guardrail Down a 150-Foot Bank, Three Are Rescued.

Huntington, Pa., June 11.—Lorrain Hoar, 19 of Altoona was instantly killed last Thursday night and his three companions were painfully hurt when his automobile crashed through a guardrail and down a 150-foot embankment into the flooded Juniata River, east of Alexandria, this county.

His companions were rescued from the stream by parties in another automobile.

FAVORS WAR PROHIBITION FOR ALL.

National Tuberculosis Association Would Place Civilians on Same Basis as Soldiers.

New York, June 11.—Believing it unfair to impose on those risking their lives in battle restrictions that do not apply to civilians at home, the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, with headquarters in this city, has gone on record as favoring nationwide unconditional prohibition.

The Association would not limit this measure to the period of the war. Its directors believe that conditions that make it particularly desirable to prevent the use of liquor while the country's troops are actually fighting will obtain as long as the nation in on a war basis, that is until her emergency military establishment has been disbanded and normal conditions prevail. They, therefore, advocate the continuation of this measure in force for at least one year after the close of the war.

The Association is cooperating with the Council of National Defense in fighting the spread of tuberculosis among the troops and believes that one of the essentials in assuring the greatest possible success of this campaign is the elmination of the use of liquor. In favoring national prohibition it points out the experience in this direction of the European countries engaged in the war and urges that this nation "neglect nothing that will make for the general good of the service."

ORGANIZING THE WOMEN.

Division of Virginia Council of Defense to be Formed Next Week.

The Richmond Times-Dispatch of yesterday has the following:

"Sixty of the most distinguished women of Virginia, representing every phase of activity in which women engage, will meet on Tuesday, June19, with Mrs. B. B. Munford in the Senate Chamber to form the Virginia Division of the Woman's Committee of the Council of National Defense.

"This organization, with affiliated branches throughout the State, will determine and carry out the work which women will do toward winning the war. Mrs. B. B. Munford has been named by the national body temporary chairman for the organizing meeting, and it is probable that she will be elected permanent president. Its work will be closely co-ordinated with that of the Virginia Council of Defense.

"It is doubtful that such a distinguished body of women, representing such diversified lines of work, has gathered in Richmond during recent years. Many of them have a State-wide reputation for service in social and patriotic societies. Several of them are prominent figures in the literature of the nation.

Well-Known Women to Attend

Governor Stuart will be asked to address the meeting, as will General E. W. Nichols, of the Virginia Military Institute, and District Attorney Richard Evelyn Byrd, chairman and vice-chairman, respectively, of the Virginia Council of Defense. Among the names of those to whom Mrs. Munford has sent invitations to attend is Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett, of Alexandria president of the Florence Crittenden Mission."

The report of Dr. E. L. Flanagan, in charge of the health survey of Fairfax county shows that there is considerable hookworm infection among school children. The first 100 examined revealed that 10 of these were positive for hookworm disease. In addition to finding this species of parasite, 59 cases of roundworm and two cases of tapeworm were discovered.

Governor Stuart reports the State's total registration at 181,826, divided as follows: White, 126,509; colored, 58,563; alien, 2,575; alien enemies, 179. Indictated possible exemptions, 115,934. State's estimated eligibles (revised) 188,833.

TWO AMERICANS KILLED.

Victims Firemen on a British Steamer That Was Reported in Philadelphia in March.

London, June 11.—Two Americans were killed when the British steamer Manchester Miller, loaded with cotton, was torpedoed June 5. The Americans were Firemen Ashley and Daniels. Two other members of the crew, including several Americans, were landed.

The British steamer Southland, from Liverpool for Philadelphia in ballast, was torpedoed without warning on June 4. She had six Americans aboard, of whom one, Edward Rigney, of New York, is missing. The gun crew on the Southland fired 10 shots at the submarine after the first torpedo was fired. A second torpedo was fired by the submarine and it caused an explosion in the magazine, which killed eight men. Two boats containing 40 men still are missing. The rest of the crew of 159 has been landed.

As showing the excellent information which the submarines receive, the U-boat commander, when informed of the name of the ship, showed surprise and said: "Why you are a week ahead of your time." The submarine flew no flag.

Paris, June 11.—The torpedoing of a big American steamer and the shelling and sinking by the submarine of the small boats in which the steamer's crew were escaping is reported by the survivors of the French three-masted sailing ship Jeanne Cordonnier. The French ship was torpedoed in the English Channel on May 31 and the crew reached Havre in open boats. They declare they witnessed the destruction of the American ship after their own vessel had been sunk.

SEES MEXICO AS NEW ALLY.

French Think Republic Will Enter War With the Entente.

Paris, June 11.—France is watching with a great deal of interest and hope, the situation in Mexico, and is beginning to believe that despite her apparent "about face" tactics, Mexico is seriously thinking of breaking off diplomatic relations with Germany and entering the war on the side of the allies.

Louis Quintanilla, Mexican charge d' affaires in Paris, said today:

"I have received no official information whatsoever from my government. One thing may be taken as rather significant however. France and Germany have fought two great economic battles during the present war. Germany is holding the fair of Leipsig and France the fair af Lyons.

"While Mexico did not take the trouble to be represented at the fair at Leipsig, I have been officially charged to represent my government at the Lyon's fair.

"It must also be remembered that before his re-election and his return to office on May 1, President Carranza was in identically the same political situation as President Wilson before he was re-elected and re-inaugurated. A severe task confronted President Carranza, even more severe than that of President Wilson, for, in addition to the various political factions to be gathered into one, our country was torn by civil war..

"I think you will see President Carranza pursue a vigorous policy with regard to foreign affairs. The direction this will take, I am, of course, not at liberty to prophesy.

"At the same time it is well to remember Mexico is a republic and a country wherein democracy and liberty have taken firm root. Besides, President Carranza has assured President Wilson he will tolerate no assembling of German bands on the Mexican frontiers, nor any hostile acts by the Germans in Mexico. Draw your own conclusions."

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Albert Lindsay, aged 17, was drowned Thursday in New River, near Allisonia. He was crossing the river when he fell from his canoe and was drowned before assistance could reach him.

Three persons were killed yesterday when a New Haven passenger train struck the automobile of C. W. Anderson, near Sunbury, Mass., The dead are Anderson's son Edward, his daughter Edith and his sister, Miss Caroline W. Anderson.

A big electric sign on the roof of a Broadway, New York, theater effectively concealed the aerials of a powerful wireless plant operated in the interest of Germany, and secret service agents who discovered the hidden instruments have placed three men under arrest.

The commission which is elaborating a law regulating the convening of the Russian constituent assembly has fixed 18 years as the minimum age for a voter. It is argued that youths of 18 are fighting in defense of their country and are entitled to political rights.

"Fire," commanded the "captain" of a group of boys, playing "soldier" on the estate of Robert Crain, a Washington lawyer, at La Plata, Md., yesterday afternoon, and a second later 12-year-old Charles Schultz, son of a La Plata farmer, fell with a wound in his stomach.

Authorities of School district No. 43, which is four miles north of Emporia, Kans., met recently and decided to ask their Representative for any government literature available in Washington which might contain expert advice bearing upon such a situation as that in this district, where in nine years no girl babies have been born.

Twenty-eight men entombed in the Speculator Mine, near Butte, Montana, since the fire Friday night were brought to the surface alive yesterday afternoon. Of the 28 rescued men, one was so far gone that resuscitation was impossible. The finding of the men alive stimulated efforts of the rescue teams, and there is strong hope that others may be found alive.

Waves of American soldiers will go to the western battle front to join Gen. Pershing's advance division and from indications in diplomatic circles the waves will be numerous and quick in succession. It was predicted yesterday that the number of American soldiers who will see service in France will be greater than had been supposed, although the number are kept secret by the War Department.

A British admiralty official statement issued last night reads: The vice admiral at Dover reports that the latest reconnoissance of Ostend shows that all large shipping has been removed from that harbor which presents a deserted appearance." The removal of shipping from Ostend is probably a result of the recent British bombardment of that port and fear that another operation of a similar character might be carried out.

Hayden Evans Morgan, of Scranton, Pa., the man who refused to register last Tuesday on the plea that he "was in God's service and would have to wait until he received a manifestation of God's pleasure in the matter, appeared at the United States Marshal' s office today and said he was ready to register, that God had appeared to him in a dream last night and directed him to place himself at the service of his country.

A dispatch from Pittsburgh, Pa., says two persons are thought to have been drowned, a score were injured and more than thirty others were rescued from probable drowning yesterday afternoon in Docker's Hollow, Braddock, following a cloudburst which wrought havoc in the Monongahela valley. A dozen dwelling houses were washed away in Docker's Hollow, three other residences were destroyed, and half of the houses in the hollow were damaged.

Whale steak is the latest development in the campaign to beat the high cost of living. If your purse is nearly empty at the end of the week, just lay in a supply of whale meat, at ten cents a pound, or perhaps a few pounds of dolphin or porpoise, suggests the Bureau of Fisheries. Whale and porpoise meat has been finding a ready sale on the Pacific Coast, the bureau reports, and at some of the leading hotels the menus will be found to contain such items as "barbecued Alaska black cod and drawn butter," and "Sperm whale steak and currant jelly."

Members of the National Seamen's and Firemen's Union of Great Britain have taken prisoner Frederick W. Jowett, president of the independent labor party, and James Ramsey MacDonald, chairman of the labor party, both members of parliament who were about to sail for Petrograd. An enthusiastic demonstration was held yesterday afternoon in Trafalgar square to protest against permitting Mr. MacDonald and Mr. Jowett to proceed to Petrograd on account of their supposed pacifist leanings. The meeting was opened by the reading of the following telegram from Capt. Tupper, of the Seamen's and Firemen's Union: "I have MacDonald and Jowett prisoners. The crew refuses to sail with them.'
